President's Report

We would like to thank all the participants and sponsors (Eye Lighting and Venture Lighting) for making the December Light Walk a success. I would also like to thank Jason, Kristen, Gene and Joe for all their hard work in preparing this event. For those of you who attended, I hope you enjoyed the guided tour through Cleveland Public Square to see and hear about the notable lighting projects in our own back yard and see the Lighting in Cleveland in a different light.

The January program will be "The Evolution of Lamp Technologies" sponsored by Myriad Energy Solutions and GE Nela Park. The event will be held at GE Nela Park and is a great location to see a program which takes you on a journey from the past and light our way into future technologies. The event will be January 13th at noon. For additional details, see the front page of the January Lumen Press.

The IES Illumination Awards are coming up soon, so start looking at your projects for the past year that you think is really good and submit the project for judging in one of the IES categories. Submissions are open January 14, 2011 to February 11, 2011. Since IES National no longer provides Certificates of Participation, we thought that maybe we can do something at a local level. In 2011, we will take the top three rated IES judged submittals from our section that did not win a regional award and have the top three rated projects presented by the project designers at the September IES Program. But to win, you need to submit a project. To find out more information on how to submit a project, go online at <http://www.ies.org/programs/ia.cfm>.

In April, we will have a program entitled "A Tale of Three Local Presentations." The program will highlight three local designers and have them talk about a current local design project and the lessons learned during the design process.

Stay tuned for more information on the Lightfair Trip to Philadelphia coming in May of 2011.

It is early, but don't forget to start saving for a foursome or sponsorship for the June 3rd IES Cleveland Section Golf Outing.
