LED Life Ratings, What Do They Really Mean?

A lot has changed in the past few years since LED luminaires hit the market. This program will compare LED chip life ratings vs. Luminaire life ratings and why you should care about the driver in the fixture you specify.

Our presenter: David Korow, Sr. Lighting Specialist, The Institute, Current Powered by GE. David has 34 years of service with GE. He came to GE as a student co-op in HID engineering in 1981; he took a full time position in 1983 after graduating with an electrical engineering degree from Fenn College of Engineering, Cleveland State University. In his career with GE, David has served as a Design Engineer for Metal Halide Lamps, a Project Leader in Compact Fluorescent Lamps and ten years as a Product Service Engineer for HID lamps and ballasts. Most recently, he has been on the teaching staff of the Lighting Institute for 8 years. He is a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IESNA), and is Lighting Certified (LC) by NCQLP.

President's Report

We will be offering The IES Fundamentals of Lighting course this Spring. Marian Perez, our Education Chair, will once again be coordinating the course.

Fundamentals of Lighting is an introductory course comprised of seven modules. It replaces ED-100, Fundamental Level. Fundamentals of Lighting enables participants who pass the course to receive IES Continuing Education Units or AIA Learning Units. Each module includes textual material, PowerPoint student handout notetaking pages, quizzes, and additional references. Registration is now open on our website. See our advertisement in the Lumen Press for full course details.

The IES Scholarship golf outing is around the corner, June 2, at Pine Ridge Country Club. Proceeds will go towards our cash scholarship for a deserving high school student through CTSC, Cleveland Technical Society Council. Other proceeds will go towards section activities for the 2017–18 program year. I am taking reservations for teams and sponsors now. If you are interested in golfing or being a sponsor, please let me know!

In other local IES news, we will be holding elections for officers and board of managers, each for a 2-year term commencing on July 1, 2017. If you wonder what it would be like to be on the board or be an officer, I would encourage you to ask one of us what it's like? How much time do I need to put in to be an effective board member? If you are interested in learning more about job descriptions they are available on the IES national website: www.ies.org, or again, ask a current officer or BOM member.

Our next board of managers meeting will be held on Friday, March 10 at noon via conference call. These meetings are open to all of our members. If you would like to get involved, please let Henry Barker know, hbarker@karpinskieng.com, and he will add you to the meeting invitation.

Best regards,

Kristen Mallardi
